

wine list

whites

~ sauvignon blanc ~

Sauvignon Blanc has a fabulous array of aromatic qualities. From the Loire Valley the style is reminiscent of cut-grass, gooseberry, flint and nettles. In the New world, particularly New Zealand it produces pungently assertive characters, from the green grass flavours to the more tropical, ripe spectrum such as passion fruit and mango.

~ chenin blanc ~

A classic grape variety from the Loire where it exhibits floral and honeyed aromas, apple and quince flavours and zippy acidity. From the New World it can be quite 'pear droppy', becoming more peachy in some of the fuller wines, sometimes a hint of fruit salad. It's the most widely planted South African white varietal, they call it 'Steen'.

~ chardonnay ~

Medium to light bodied with noticeable acidity and flavours of green plum, apple, and pear. In warmer locations the flavours become more citrus, peach, and melon, while in very warm locations more fig and tropical fruit notes such as banana and mango come out.

rosé

When rosé wine is the primary product, it is produced with the skin contact method. Black-skinned grapes are crushed and the skins remain in contact with the juice for a short period, typically one to three days. The must is then pressed and the skins are discarded rather than left in contact throughout fermentation (as with red wine making). The longer that the skins are left in contact with the juice, the more intense the colour of the final wine.

~ pinot noir ~

Pinot Noir is the red grape of Burgundy. It is a very difficult variety to cultivate and is susceptible to numerous viticultural hazards. Perhaps this is why many wine makers consider it the 'holy grail' and want to make it. Remember it is brick red in colour, a good indicator in 'blind tastings'. It produces red fruit aromas of cherries, raspberries and strawberries. It then can produce those 'barn yard' characteristics. Vanilla clove, licorice, mushroom, tobacco, sometimes 'sweaty leather'!

~ malbec ~

Responsible for the so-called 'black wine of Cahors' in South-West France. Malbec is also a minor partner among the five red varieties that make up the Bordeaux blend. In France it can be harsh and rustically tannic. However it is the red grape par excellence in Argentina, where it makes a softer, juicier style of red, with raspberries, mulberry blackberry allied to tar and game-like undertones. We are also seeing Malbec in Chile, Australia and California.

prosecco

Prosecco is an Italian white wine. Prosecco DOC can be spumante, frizzante, or tranquillo, depending on the perlage. It is made from Glera grapes, formerly known also as Prosecco, but other grape varieties may be included.

dessert wine

There is no simple definition of a dessert wine. In the UK, a dessert wine is considered to be any sweet wine drunk with a meal, as opposed to the white fortified wines (fino and amontillado sherry) drunk before a meal and the red fortified wines (port and madeira) drunk after it. Most fortified wines are regarded as distinct from dessert wines, but some of the less strong fortified white wines, such as Pedro Ximénez sherry and Muscat de Beaumes-de-Venise, are regarded as honorary dessert wines.

48. TAWNY PORT FERREIRA £4.00 £26.00
Portugal

A fresh and delicate aroma, reminiscent of spices and dry fruit, acquired during oak ageing. In the mouth this is an elegant wine that shows a fine balance between structure and sweetness, providing it with an attractive, long finish.

49. LATE BOTTLED VINTAGE FERREIRA 2011 £4.50 £31.00
Portugal

The intense aroma is dominated by very ripe black fruit (blackcurrant, blackberry and prune), along with chocolate, cocoa, floral aromas and a slight hint of spices (pepper). In the mouth it is a full-bodied wine with great balance between sweetness and ripeness.

50. QUINTA DO PORTO 10 YEAR OLD TAWNY FERREIRA £5.50 £40.00
Portugal

The nose is characterised by an excellent balance between the floral and ripe fruit aromas of the grapes themselves and the spicy, dry fruit aromas of long ageing in barrel. The palate shows the classic, fresh Ferreira style, achieving a fine balance and harmony.

51. QUINTA DA LEDA FERREIRA 1999 £80.00
Portugal

Mature port from Ferreira's flagship vineyard: the original blueberry fruit is now enhanced by savoury notes of leather and tobacco, and the texture has acquired the smoothness that comes with bottle-age.
